

MANY PARADES TO AID PUMPKIN SHOW

Franker Baughman has assumed the difficult role of director of Department No. 8, in charge of parades, for the 1932 Pumpkin Show. Section 1 is the pony and horse parade to be staged Wednesday at 7 p. m. to be the grand opening of the big event.

Stanley Lewis is chairman of the parade with Elmer Wolf and L. E. Miller as assistants. The horse parade will be immediately followed by the pony parade with no prizes to be given in this appearance. All horses and ponies to be eligible for prizes in the other shows must be in the parade.

Additional horse show parades will be Friday and Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. each day.

BABY SHOW PARADE

Mrs. Harry G. Stevenson is chairman of Section 11 in charge of the Baby Show and parade. She will be assisted by Mrs. Mary G. Morris who has had previous experience in this event. All entries must take part in the parade to be eligible for prizes.

Prizes will be awarded as follows:

Prettiest white baby under one year of age, prettiest colored baby under one year of age, prettiest white baby between one and two years of age, prettiest colored baby between one and two years of age, prettiest white baby between two and three years of age, prettiest colored baby between two and three years of age, prettiest pair of white twins up to three years of age, prettiest pair of colored twins up to three years of age, best play outfit with little girl in charge, open to both white and colored children. If six or more entries are received from little colored girls they will be given a separate class and the same prizes.

The limit is ten years of age. The best novelty outfit with child in charge will also be awarded prizes with the prettiest and most artistic decorated baby buggy also to be given a prize.

INDUSTRIAL PARADE

With the expected school parade not to be held an industrial parade with Earl Kubler in charge is planned for Friday afternoon.

The comic and characterization parade to be Friday at 7:30 p. m. finds Miss Anne Bennett as chairman assisted by Miss Peggy Courtwright. Prizes of $5, $4, $3, and $2 will be given for both best comic and best character representations. In the comic section masks may be used but in the characterization parade no masks are permitted each entry to represent some personage.

The Pet Parade looked forward to by every kiddie in the county, will be Saturday at 2:30 p. m. under the direction of Landon Baughman with Robert Adams as his assistant.

Prizes will be awarded the following:

Typical boy, under 12, and his pet, typical girl, under 12, and her pet, pony outfit, open to boys and girls, novel display of pets, open to all ages; unusual pets, open to all ages; open class, any pet of any kind by persons of any age may be entered, and for greatest number of different pets entered by any one person. Insects are not counted as pets. Prizes from $5 down to 50 cents will be distributed in this parade.

The limit is ten years of age. The best novelty outfit with child in charge will also be awarded prizes with the prettiest and most artistic decorated baby buggy also to be given a prize.

VO-AG STUDENTS RETURN TO FARM

Number of Young Men Taking Advantage of Special Courses Increases.

About two-thirds of the students enrolled in vocational agriculture high school courses stay on the farm, according to Ray Fife, state supervisor of vocational agriculture.

Fifteen years of vocational agriculture instruction in Ohio under the Smith-Hughes Act indicate in the five year period, 1917-1922, 61 per cent of the students taking one or more years of vocational agriculture remained in Ohio's farms while 9 per cent entered the college of agriculture, Fife pointed out in a recent address on the Farm Night radio program from the state-owned station WEAQ.

In 1922-1927, 56 per cent remained on the farm and 4 per cent entered the college of agriculture. During the last five-year period, 64 per cent remained on farms and 4 per cent entered the college of agriculture. Approximately two-thirds of the vocational agriculture students in Ohio high schools have thus received training for the occupation they entered after leaving school.

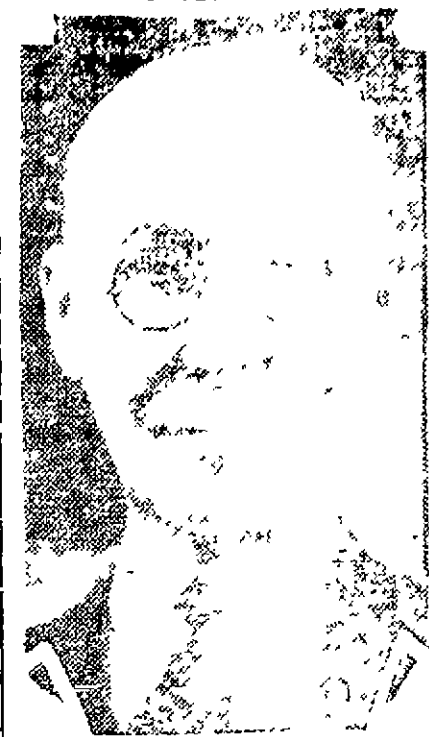

There has been a rapid increase in the number of young men on farms 16-25 years of age who are taking advantage of special instruction offered by vocational agriculture teachers. Fife asserted in 1929, 48 special courses were held for such young men. In 1930 the number increased to 88. In 1931 155 courses were offered. Eighty-eight of these groups or ganized into Young Men's Farming clubs so that social and recreational features could be provided.

Landreth L. Layton of Dover, Del., who was named to be the Democratic candidate for Governor of Delaware at the next State convention at Dover, is the son of a sweeping the State are held by Delaware Democrats this year. The present incumbent is Governor C. Douglas Buchanan a Republican.

PARK IS POPULAR

DENVER.—Runners in Rocky Mountain National park was better than usual this year. 30,000 of the United States national park service recently reported that the park shows that 2,500 persons visited the park to date this year, a total of 16,655 more than a year ago.

Thousands of hardy tree seedlings are ready for distribution from the State Forest Nursery. Fall transplanting of hard wood trees such as black walnut, white ash, red oak, oaks, black locust and tulip poplar may be begun as soon as the leaves fall from the trees. Evergreen trees such as the pines and spruces may be planted any time in the spring for they suffer more from the freezing effect of alternate freezing and thawing of the soil than do the deciduous trees.

Education is an investment in prosperity and a refuge in adversity.

Music, Entertainment Are Real Attractions

Pumpkin Show patrons will be treated to a $1,200 free attraction and amusement program, according to T. D. Krinn, director of Department 7, who has arranged and booked several fine acts to appear with scheduling four bands from the local American Legion drum corps to furnish music during the four days and nights of the 29th annual event.

Circleville high school's junior and senior bands and the Hallsville band will appear on each of the four days, the Ashville band will appear on Friday and the Laurelville organization will come here on Saturday. The American Legion drum corps will appear Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

CATTIERS TO COME
Probably the most outstanding free attraction will be seen at High and Court-sts at 3 and 8 p. m. where Les Cattiers, unique and dare-deviling high wire artists will offer their sensational presentation at a dizzy height of 115 feet. Les Cattiers, a French importation is really a treat for outdoor audiences this season and they are the aristocrats of the outdoor show world when it comes to smart and high class entertainment, according to Mr. Krinn.

Pondaw, presenting a trapeze and loop walking act will appear at the court house every day at 5 and 10 p. m. This is a clever act and one which Pumpkin Show visitors will enjoy.

A hard-to-hand balancing act being presented each day of the show at 2 and 7 p. m. at Main and Pickaway-sts by the Three Lamoures. This is an unusual attraction and will be appreciated by the patrons of the show.

Jess Sides and daughter are appearing in a novelty unicycle act each day at 4 and 9 a. m. at Main and Western-ave. They present excellent entertainment.

BAUGHN TO FLY
Another feature of the free entertainment which will also please audiences is an exhibition of acrobatics to be presented each day at 1 p. m. by Homer (Up-side-down) Baughn. The act will include loops, spins, barrel rolls, vertical rolls and an inverted flight. Baughn will fly a fast Wright whirl-wind Waco plane and he will maintain his altitude and observe all regulations of the Department of Commerce.

Montana Meechy's Cowboy Band composed of a group of cowboys from the cow country of Montana and who boast of having had actual experience in the branding and rounding-up of cattle and horses will appear here Wednesday and Thursday. In connection with a musical program, they also present rope spinning and whip topping. Mrs. Meechy also does a sharp-shooting act, shooting objects off Meechy's head, out of his mouth, off the end of his nose, tips of his fingers, etc. Then Montana Meechy does a knife-throwing impalement act, using 16-inch steel knives and using Mrs. Meechy for a target.

ADVANCE $200
All in all, the best program that Mr. Krinn could obtain has been booked to give the Pumpkin Show patrons the best of entertainment. The Pumpkin Show Society even advanced Mr. Krinn $200 more in excess of the $1,000 previously appropriated. So, if you don't see anything else, visit each of the free acts!

Music, Entertainment Are Real Attractions

Pumpkin Show patrons will be treated to a $1,200 free attraction and amusement program, according to T. D. Krinn, director of Department 7, who has arranged and booked several fine acts together with scheduling four bands and the local American Legion drum corps to furnish music during the four days and nights of the 29th annual event.

Circleville high school's junior and senior bands and the Hallsville band will appear on each of the four days, the Ashville band will appear on Friday and the Laurelville organization will come here on Saturday. The American Legion drum corps will appear Wednesday Thursday and Friday evenings.

CATTIERS TO COME
Probably the most outstanding free attraction will be seen at High and Court-sts at 3 and 8 p. m. where Les Cattiers, unique and dare-deviling high wire artists will offer their sensational presentation at a dizzy height of 115 feet. Les Cattiers, a French importation is really a treat for outdoor audiences this season and they are the aristocrats of the outdoor show world when it comes to smart and high class entertainment, according to Mr. Krinn.

Fondaw, presenting a trapeze and loop walking act will appear at the court house every day at 5 and 10 p. m. This is a clever act and one which Pumpkin Show visitors will enjoy.

A hand-to-hand balancing act being presented each day of the show at 2 and 7 p. m. at Main and Pickaway-sts by the Three Lamoures. This is an unusual attraction and will be appreciated by the patrons of the show.

Jess Sides and daughter are appearing in a novelty unicycle act each day at 4 and 9 a. m. at Main and Western-ave. They present excellent entertainment.

BAUGHN TO FLY
Another feature of the free entertainment which will also please audiences is an exhibition of acrobatics to be presented each day at 1 p. m. by Homer (Up-side-down) Baughn. The act will include loops, spins, barrel rolls, certical rolls and an inverted flight. Baughn will fly a fast Wright whirlwind Waco plane and he will maintain his altitude and observe all regulations of the Department of Commerce.

Montana Meechy's Cowboy Band composed of a group of cowboys from the cow country of Montana and who boast of having had actual experience in the branding and rounding-up of cattle and horses will appear here Wednesday and Thursday. In connection with a musical program, they also present rope spinning and whip topping. Mrs. Meechy also does a sharp-shooting act, shooting objects off Meechy's head, out of his mouth, off the end of his nose, tips of his fingers, etc. Then Montana Meechy does a knife-throwing impalemet act, using 16-inch steel knives and using Mrs. Meechy for a target.

ADVANCE $200
All in all, the best program that Mr. Krinn could obtain has been booked to give the Pumpkin Show patrons the best of entertainment. The Pumpkin Show Society even advanced Mr. Krinn $200 more in excess of the $1,000 previously appropriated.

So, if you don't see anything else, visit each of the free acts!

Canada Rich in Metals
Canada is second only to Africa as a gold producer, and minerals worth $5,000,000 are won from the earth every week. In one metal, nickel, the Dominion has practically a world monopoly. The greatest nickel mine in the world is in Ontario, and its shares are worth millions, for rust-proof and acid-proof alloys containing nickel are increasingly used for industrial and decorative purposes.

The Aroused Taxpayer

WHEN congress adjourned last summer it left unfinished the biggest job of the session, reduction of government costs and the balancing of the federal budget. The individual members may have thought at the time that they had succeeded in the latter but there wasn't a man or woman among them who felt that the cost of the national government had been reduced to the irreducible minimum.

Thus congressmen of all political and economic faiths are to be found at this moment talking about what they will do next winter about the high cost of government and the unbalanced budget. They were talking the same language last fall, and yet it has a different tone now. Perhaps the way the voters have been making the politicians walk turkey has something to do with it.

What significance is to be attached to the advocacy in a single week of higher taxes by two Democratic senators and of more economy by several Republican congressmen and the Democratic chairman of the house ways and means committee? Are these expressions of opinion to be accepted as representative of the two major parties?

Election upon election this year has made clear one mandate of the people: The taxpayers want less taxes and government economy on a scale that will be reflected in lower taxes to vote for higher taxes without drastic government reform is tantamount to political suicide in the next session of congress, as it was for many in the last session.

The taxpayers have declared war on the hordes of jobholders and officials. And the heavy artillery is in the hands of the taxpayers.

Ideas are like food. Is a man a rascal because he can't digest the food you enjoy?

Railroads' Way Out

WHEN the Ohio Public Utilities Commission approved drastic freight rate reductions by two railroads it recognized a downward trend in railroad rates national in scope and as irresistible as the entering wedge of truck and bus transportation.

Unjust discrimination and undue prejudice being absent in the application of the rates sustained, the commission holds itself bound to respect managerial discretion, and refused to discourage cut-rate bids for new business.

Government regulation was not intended to compel a transportation medium to charge more than some other medium for a particular service, nor was it intended that government regulation enforce an unnecessarily high rate upon one medium because a competing medium could not make a profit on a lower rate.

Government regulation of the railroads has failed. Proposed as an instrument for the prevention of cutthroat competition and unfair rates, it has, instead, destroyed all competitive effort, and steadily driven rates upward. And now it is proposed that it be used to force trucks and buses in charge more than their services are worth, merely for the protection of railroad rates.

Perhaps the railroads would not be in their present deplorable plight if they had had a free hand in defending themselves against competition, and had depended less upon government guarantees.

College Songs

NATIONAL college song week is to be observed by colleges and universities throughout the country with special programs of music by glee clubs, orchestras and bands. An excellent idea, inspired by worthy aims, but unless the old college songs are on the programs the results obtained will be something less than complete.

Twenty years ago "Solomon Levi," "The Bulldog on the Bank," "Bunkie," "Updies" and "The Man Who Has Plenty of Good Fun" would have been on every program. There is but the slenderest chance that they will be heard during national college song week.

Turtle-neck sweaters have come back and peg-legged trousers have been mentioned for revival but the familiar songs of the old college days are as dead as their times. Their place on glee club programs has been usurped by modern ballads and classical and semi-classical numbers which may have something to do with the waning popularity of these musical organizations.

Traditional songs of a true college flavor belong to national college song week as much as football belongs to the campus. The old grads deserve a little bit of "There is a Tavern in the Town," "Clementine," "Good Night Ladies" and "Wake Freshman, Wake" during national college song week.

MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY

BY ANTHONY ABBOT

COPIES 17,181 BY COWLEY-FAIRDE INC. DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE INC.

SYNOPSIS

Lola Carewe, "The Night Club Lady", and her guest, Christine Quires, are mysteriously murdered in the former's apartment. Scorpions were the instruments of death. The police suspect Guy Everett, the last person to see Christine alive. Lola had blackmailed Everett. He, however, claims that Christine discovered a plot to kill Lola and feared for her own life because of her knowledge. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt learns that a young Paris bank clerk, named Basil Boucher, loved Lola. After robbing a bank to buy her a ruby, Basil disappeared. His parents sold medical laboratory specimens. Mrs. Carewe, Lola's mother, became hysterical at the mention of Basil, calling her daughter a beast and saying Lola never loved him. Elgar Quires, Christine's brother, left his Rochester home for New York following the receipt of a telegram the day of the murders. Christine was to have inherited wealth shortly. Suspicion also points to Dr. Hugh Baldwin when it is disclosed that he purchased scorpions. He had stated heart failure caused the deaths. Colt, calling to question Baldwin, finds Mrs. Baldwin reveals that she knew her husband was involved with Lola. Detectives report Baldwin met a man who gave him a box. In Baldwin's desk the Commissioner finds a statement in which the doctor explains he accidentally poisoned Gaylord Gifford, Lola's husband. Lola's knowledge of this placed Baldwin in her power. She forced him to supply narcotics which she used to victimize her friends and later blackmailed them.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

THIS is the woman to whom I have been shackled in an unholy pact for the last several years. Will it seem to be strange if I confess that she has exercised over me a horrible and fantastic influence? How can we desire that which has made us suffer torment? No psychoanalytical theory has made that mystery clear to me, for they answer me only in words and I suffer in my nerves and tissues. I am a home-loving man. I dearly love my wife and children. I could be happy and content, making a modest living for them and living out my life in the quiet paths of my profession. It is Lola who has broken my wife's heart. It is she who has brought a cloud of suspicion, a plague of unhappiness into my home. How, then, is it that when I am alone with her I try to hold her in my arms? It is this, as much as anything else, that has made me so hate my own life that I am quitting it. I feel unclean. Yet, for whatever value it may be to the psychologist—let me record it here and now that I did passionately desire this woman, who has held me in bondage and has treated me with contempt, with studied and continued insolence.

"It was a queer relationship. I furnished drugs to many strange people. But even this was not the full extent of my operations.

"All of this has been going on, ever since my friend died—my friend, Gaylord Gifford, whom, unintentionally, I killed. In those years of what I may call my servitude to Lola Carewe I believed that I knew the full extent of her wickedness. But recently my eyes were opened. I learned then what I had not before even dreamed of—that in the range of this beautiful creature's crimes not even murder was excluded.

"Specifically, what brought me to this realization was a demand that she made upon me. It was an order that could have only one meaning. I was told that she wished me to obtain, through some laboratory supply agency, an insect whose bite would be instant death. She confessed to me that someone very important to her meant to commit a murder—I tell you, she brazenly confessed this to me.

"I was horror-stricken at this demand. I looked at her, as she sat before the fireplace in her living-room, as if she were a fiend from hell. The devil, I thought, must be a woman; I had always believed him a man. What reason could Lola have for a poisonous insect—unless murder were stirring in her own heart, her own head, yes, and her shapely white hands? She was the one who meant to kill!

"I uttered a positive protest. I told her I would not do what she asked. It was the first time that I had refused to do anything for her, since she had me in her power. But she did not take my rebellion seriously. The very calmness with which she heard me revolt against her demands caused me to feel the weakness of my stand. Since I had been taking orders from Lola Carewe, I had been wading deeper in crime all the time. Now she could demand me to the police, not only for the death of her husband, from which I could have extricated myself, disgraced it is true, but at least free; but now I was guilty of half a thousand offenses that would send me to the Federal prison in Atlanta. She told me not to be silly. I finally told myself that she was right. I believed then that a freedom bought by a murder would be better than to go to prison and fasten on my family the penalties of my crimes.

"I did not stop to reason, then, that I would be only opening the door to further enormities. Once Lola had been enmeshed in a murder plot, I would, indeed, be owned by that woman. She could order me to kill as often as she liked.

"But this I did not realize, then. I suppose I did realize it, to tell the truth, but overriding all such saner calculations was the one desire to protect myself. I was afraid of Lola Carewe. Besides, what danger was I running to provide her with the little thing she asked—an insect whose bite was positively deadly? How was I to know what she would use it for?

"It was with such base and specious reasoning that I persuaded myself. I went to a Spanish youth whom I knew—Ricardo Villafranca is his name—and talked to him about my quest. Ricardo is the proprietor of one of the laboratory supply houses with which I have dealt, in the past. He specializes in Central and South American specimens. Ricardo told me that he believed a certain scorpion, very frequently found in the Durango region of Mexico, was the most certain in its death-dealing proclivities. He had one which he showed me and upon my paying a fee, he let the scorpion free from its box and attack a dog. The death of the animal from that bite was swift and terrible; in all my experience as a physician I have never seen anything quite like it. More than once there has been one of the frightful creatures in a little box on my desk here, close to my ear. I could hear a soft noise that it made in the box. Death within the reach of my hand—and making a soft noise!

"But I must not let my morbid state of mind intervene between my purpose and this page. I must write the truth about Lola Carewe down on paper. At any moment I am liable to be killed. For I did not realize that when I went on the errand of buying her deadly insects, she had fully resolved that I was to be one of her victims.

"How did I know that? All in due course, my friend—you whom I do not know, but whose eyes now fall upon this manuscript. I gave the orders for the Durango scorpions. I told Lola that delivery was promised within four weeks. I remember that it was on Thanksgiving Day that I made her that promise.

"Then I tried to forget about the matter. I tried to plunge into my practice, which had been suffering because of my other preoccupations. I tried to be kinder to my wife and children. I tried to pick up all the threads of the old life, before this woman had come into my life.

"But even that brief interlude was not to be allowed to me. One night I was summoned to the penthouse by an excited telephone call from Lola's mother. Incidentally, I need say that my office was in the same building with Lola only because she had commanded it so? I hurried upstairs in the elevator, for the call had caught me at the office. I found that Christine Quires was ill; it was really a case of simple stomach disorder. But Christine was suffering considerable pain, and at first I wondered if Lola was about to put her on the drugs. But no—that was not it. I was able to relieve Christine. I was alone in the guest-room, attending to the weeping Christine, when suddenly I became, without any intention to be, a listener to an incriminating conversation between Lola Carewe and Mr. Vincent Rowland.

"I will confess this was a terrific shock to me. Ever since my college days I had known of Vincent Rowland. He was one of New York's most glamorous old gentlemen. He was a patron of young people, struggling in the arts. How many poets and painters, novelists and playwrights could thank Vincent Rowland for a grub-stake while they worked on things they felt were precious! How much the symphony orchestra owed to his large-handed generosity! What a powerful voice he was in all movements for civic progress! True, there were whispered tales of his prodigality with his women friends. I could not condemn him for that. I put him down as a dirty old gentleman and let it go at that.

"But what was this I was overhearing? It was unmistakably the voice of Vincent Rowland. He and Lola had been to a night club together. Now he had brought her home. Neither Lola nor Rowland knew that I was in the house. They thought the occupants were asleep. They spoke of guard.

"I heard Vincent Rowland say to Lola that he felt she should not take such risks. And I heard Lola impatiently demand what on earth he expected her to do—not squeeze the last ounce of gold out of these suckers, when it was there for the asking? My hair was standing on end. Now I was forced to believe the evidence of my own ears—that the brain of her plots lay under the white and innocent-seeming old head of Mr. Vincent Rowland. He was the spider in the midst of the web. Rowland was the man behind Lola Carewe.

"Distinctly I heard Lola gasp. The next instant the door was flung open. There stood Lola and her aged companion. They were looking in at us with bluebeard eyes. Christine began to cry. I asked what was the matter. They accused us of eavesdropping. I told them the truth. Then Lola's mother came and defended us. Lola calmed down. But I saw that gleam in Vincent Rowland's eyes. I knew he regarded me as a danger. I knew that I would now have to watch out for myself.

Don't Dread Weaning Baby, Or Put It Off Too Long

This Normal Process Not a Serious Problem If Kept to Schedule and Under Proper Direction, But Should Never Be Delayed Beyond the Age of Nine Months.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

THE young mother has many things to learn. She may be bewildered, among other problems, with that of weaning the baby.

Weaning often is made more difficult than is necessary. For when a definite schedule is followed it need not be a serious problem.

Under normal circumstances the weaning process should begin at about the eighth or ninth month. It may be undertaken when the baby is three months, six months or nine months old, but should never be delayed beyond this time.

Whenever possible it should be planned so as to avoid weaning in hot weather. It is more difficult for the baby to digest its food during the hot days, and there is more chance then of cow's milk becoming contaminated.

Weaning should be a gradual process. It should never be done suddenly. In certain cases, as in lack of mother's milk, acute illness of the mother or disease of the breast, immediate weaning may be necessary. Early weaning is advised, too, when there is a continuous failure of the baby to gain in weight and the mother's milk is deficient in quantity or in quality.

Many baby specialists advise a daily bottle for every infant after the second month. This should be given as the afternoon feeding. This arrangement provides a little more leisure for the mother and in the end makes weaning less difficult. If something should make sudden weaning necessary the infant, being accustomed to the daily bottle, quickly adjusts itself to the new routine.

Complete weaning should not take longer than four weeks. Often it is difficult for the infant to become accustomed to the bottle and such a case requires a great deal of patience on the part of the mother.

There need be no alarm if the infant takes little nourishment during the first few days of weaning. When it becomes used to cow's milk the strength of the food formula may be increased, but the increase should be gradual, because any sudden shift in the baby's diet may cause distress. The formula should only be altered by a physician's order.

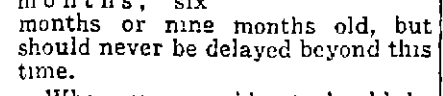

As the child grows older it should be encouraged to take milk from a small cup, which should be of a pleasing color and attractive to the infant.

The Physician's Supervision

Solid foods should be added to each feeding as soon as possible. Cereal and egg may be fed to the infant as early as the third month. Cod liver oil should be given twice a day. Start with a teaspoonful and increase the amount to a teaspoonful and a half twice a day. Orange juice or tomato juice should be included in the daily diet and is best given in the morning.

To determine whether the child is making satisfactory progress, it should be weighed at regular intervals. Under-feeding is shown if the weight drops off and continues to fall. Over-feeding is a frequent cause of distress. Vomiting and repeated colicky attacks are signs of over-feeding.

Mothers reluctant to start weaning their babies should remember that weaning is a normal process that need cause no anxiety. Never delay weaning, because it is more difficult to accomplish as the child grows older. Proper weaning done gradually and under the supervision of a physician is nothing to be dreaded.

The Daily Horoscope

Monday, Oct. 3, 1932

Mingled good and bad planetary influences are discerned for today, according to Astrology. It is a specially good day for salesmen and those interested in activities calling for enterprise and pioneering.

Before noon, matters connected with real estate and property can be handled especially for the women. Good for farming, mining, building and contracting, making leases, dealing in public utilities and trading with older people. Activities of a secret nature will be aided.

Prominent people may be receptive to new understandings. Interest in politics will be pronounced, and intense and it is an auspicious time for those seeking office to present their ideas to the masses.

From another direction, adverse stellar influences point to losses, disappointments, and bereavements among friends. Scandal or quarrels with the opposite sex is shown by those who lack understanding.

The afternoon hours are not favorable for writings, communications, interviews, signing contracts or making short journeys. If the stars are rightly read.

The Aroused Taxpayer

WHEN congress adjourned last summer it left unfinished the biggest job of the session, reduction of government costs and the balancing of the federal budget. The individual members may have thought at the time that they had succeeded in the latter but there wasn't a man or woman among them who felt that the cost of the national government had been reduced to the irreducible minimum.

Thus congressmen of all political and economic faiths are to be found at this moment talking about what they will do next winter about the high cost of government and the unbalanced budget. They were talking the same language last fall, and yet it has a different tone now. Perhaps the way the voters have been making the politicians walk turkey has something to do with it.

What significance is to be attached to the advocacy in a single week of higher taxes by two Democratic senators and of more economy by several Republican congressmen and the Democratic chairman of the house ways and means committee? Are these expressions of opinion to be accepted as representative of the two major parties?

Election upon election this year has made clear one mandate of the people: The taxpayers want less taxes and government economy on a scale that will be reflected in lower taxes. To vote for higher taxes without drastic government retrenchment will be political suicide in the next session of congress, as it was for many in the last session.

The taxpayers have declared war on the hordes of jobholders and officials. And the heavy artillery is in the hands of the taxpayers.

Idea are like food. Is a man a rascal because he can't digest the food you enjoy?

Railroads' Way Out

WHEN the Ohio Public Utilities Commission approved drastic freight rate reductions by two railroads it recognized a downward trend in railroad rates national in scope and as irresistible as the entering wedge of truck and bus transportation.

Unjust discrimination and undue prejudice being absent in the application of the rates, sustained, the commission holds itself bound to respect managerial discretion, and refused to discourage cut-rate bids for new business.

Government regulation was not intended to compel one transportation medium to charge more than some other medium for a particular service, nor was it intended that government regulation enforce an unnecessarily high rate upon one medium because a competing medium could not make a profit on a lower rate.

Government regulation of the railroads has failed. Proposed as an instrument for the prevention of cutthroat competition and unfair rates, it has, instead, destroyed all competitive effort and steadily driven rates upward. And now it is proposed that it be used to force trucks and buses in charge more than their services are worth, merely for the protection of railroad rates.

Perhaps the railroads would not be in their present deplorable plight if they had had a free hand in defending themselves against competition, and had depended less upon government guarantees.

College Songs

NATIONAL college song week is to be observed by colleges and universities throughout the country with special programs of music by glee clubs, orchestras and bands. An excellent idea, inspired by worthy aims, but unless the old college songs are on the programs the results obtained will be something less than complete.

Twenty years ago "Solomon Levi," "The Bulldog on the Bank," "Bohunkus," "Upidee," and "The Man Who Has Plenty of Good Peanuts" would have been on every program. There is but the slenderest chance that they will be heard during national college song week.

Turtleneck sweaters have come back and peg-legged trousers have been mentioned for revival but the familiar songs of the old college days are as dead as their times. Their place on glee club programs has been usurped by modern ballads and classical and semi-classical numbers, which may have something to do with the waning popularity of these musical organizations.

Traditional songs of a true college flavor belong to national college song week as much as football belongs to the campus. The old grags deserve a little bit of "There is a Tavern in the Town," "Clementine," "Good Night, Ladies," and "Wake Freshman, Wake" during national college song week.

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"
THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY
BY ANTHONY ABBOT
COPYRIGHT 1931, BY COVICH-FRIEDLE INC. DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Lola Carewe, "The Night Club Lady", and her guest, Christine Quires, are mysteriously murdered in the former's apartment. Scorpions were the instruments of death. The police suspect Guy Everett, the last person to see Christine alive. Lola had blackmailed Everett. He, however, claims that Christine discovered a plot to kill Lola and feared for her own life because of her knowledge. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt learns that a young Paris bank clerk, named Basil Boucher, loved Lola. After robbing a bank to buy her a ruby, Basil disappeared. His parents sold medical laboratory specimens. Mrs. Carewe, Lola's mother, became hysterical at the mention of Basil, calling her daughter a beast and saying Lola never loved him. Elgar Quires, Christine's brother, left his Rochester home for New York following the receipt of a telegram the day of the murders. Christine was to have inherited wealth shortly. Suspicion when it is disclosed that he purchased scorpions. He had stated heart failure caused the deaths. Colt, calling to question Baldwin, finds him dead — from a scorpion bite! Mrs. Baldwin reveals that she knew her husband was involved with Lola. Detectives report Baldwin met a man who gave him a box. In Baldwin's desk the Commissioner finds a statement in which the doctor explains he accidentally poisoned Gaylord Gifford, Lola's husband. Lola's knowledge of this placed Baldwin in her power. She forced him to supply narcotics which she used to victimize her friends and later blackmailed them.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

"THIS is the woman to whom I have been shackled in an unholy pact for the last several years. Will it seem to be strange if I confess that she has exercised over me a horrible and fantastic influence? How can we desire that which has made us suffer torment? No psychoanalytical theory has made that mystery clear to me, for they answer me only in words and I suffer in my nerves and tissues. I am a home-loving man. I dearly love my wife and children. I could be happy and content, making a modest living for them and living out my profession in the quiet paths of my profession. It is Lola who has broken my wife's heart. It is she who has brought a cloud of suspicion, a plague of unhappiness into my home. How, then, is it that when I am alone with her I try to hold her in my arms? It is this, as much as anything else, that has made me so hate my own life that I am, quitting it, I feel unclear. Yet, for whatever value it may be to the psychologist—let me record it here and now that I did passionately desire this woman, who has held me in bondage and has treated me with contempt, with studied and continued insolence.

"It was a queer relationship. I furnished drugs to many strange people. But even this was not the full extent of my operations.

"All of this has been going on, ever since my friend died—my friend, Gaylord Gifford, whom, unintentionally, I killed. In those years of what I may call my serfdom to Lola Carewe I believed that I knew the full extent of her wickedness. But recently my eyes were opened. I learned then what I had not before even dreamed of—that in the range of this beautiful creature's crimes not even murder was excluded.

"Specifically, what brought me to this realization was a demand that she made upon me. It was an order that could have only one meaning. I was told that she wished me to obtain, through some laboratory supply agency, an insect whose bite would be instant death. She confessed to me that someone very important to her meant to commit a murder—I tell you, she brazenly confessed this to me.

"I was horror-stricken at this demand. I looked at her, as she sat before the fireplace in her living-room, as if she were a fiend from hell. The devil, I thought, must be a woman; I had always believed him a man. What reason could Lola have for a poisonous insect—unless murder were stirring in her own heart, her own head, yes, and her shapely white hands? She was the one who meant to kill!

"I uttered a positive protest. I told her I would not do what she asked. It was the first time that I had refused to do anything for her, since she had me in her power. But she did not take my rebellion seriously. The very calmness with which she heard me revolt against her demands caused me to feel the weakness of my stand. Since I had been taking orders from Lola Carewe, I had been wading deeper in crime all the time. Now she could denounce me to the police, not only for the death of her husband, from which I could have extricated myself, disgraced it is true, but at least free—but now I was guilty of half a thousand offenses that would send me to the Federal prison in Atlanta. She told me not to be silly. I finally told myself that she was right. I believed then that a freedom bought by a murder would be better than to go to prison and fasten on my family the penalties of my crimes.

"I did not stop to reason, then, that I would be only opening the door to further enormities. Once Lola had been enmeshed in a murder plot, I would, indeed, be owned by that woman. She could order me to kill as often as she liked.

"But this I did not realize, then. I suppose I did realize it, to tell the truth, but overriding all such saner calculations was the one desire to protect myself. I was afraid of Lola Carewe. Besides, what danger was I running to provide her with the little thing she asked—an insect whose bite was positively deadly? How was I to know what she would use it for?

"It was with such base and specious reasoning that I persuaded myself I went to a Spanish youth whom I know—Ricardo Villafraña is his name—and talked to him about my quest. Ricardo is the proprietor of one of the laboratory supply houses with which I have dealt, in the past. He specializes in Central and South American specimens. Ricardo told me that he believed a certain scorpion, very frequently found in the Durango region of Mexico, was the most certain in its death-dealing proclivities. He had one which he showed me and upon my paying a fee, he let the scorpion free from its box and attack a dog. The death of the animal from that bite was swift and terrible; in all my experience as a physician I have never seen anything quite like it. More than once there has been one of the frightful creatures in a little box on my desk here, close to my ear. I could hear a soft noise that it made in the box. Death within the reach of my hand—and making a soft noise!

"But I must not let my morbid state of mind intervene between my purpose and this page. I must write the truth about Lola Carewe down on paper. At any moment I am liable to be killed. For I did not realize that when I went on the errand of buying her deadly insects, she had fully resolved that I was to be one of her victims.

"How did I know that? All in due course, my friend—you whom I do not know, but whose eyes now fall upon this manuscript. I gave the orders for the Durango scorpions. I told Lola that delivery was promised within four weeks. I remember that it was on Thanksgiving Day that I made her that promise.

"Then I tried to forget about the matter. I tried to plunge into my practice, which had been suffering because of my other preoccupations. I tried to be kinder to my wife and children. I tried to pick up all the threads of the old life, before this woman had come into my life.

"But even that brief interlude was not to be allowed to me. One night I was summoned to the penthouse by an excited telephone call from Lola's mother. Incidentally, I need say that my office was in the same building with Lola only because she had commanded it so? I hurried upstairs in the elevator, for the call had caught me at the office. I found that Christine Quires was suffering considerable pain, and at first I wondered if Lola was about to put her on the drugs. But no—that was not it. I was able to relieve Christine. I was alone in the guest-room, attending to the weeping Christine, when I suddenly became, without any intention to be that, a listener at an incriminating conversation between Lola Carewe and Mr. Vincent Rowland.

"I will confess this was a terrific shock to me. Ever since my college days I had known of Vincent Rowland. He was one of New York's most glamorous old gentlemen. He was a patron of young people, struggling in the arts. How many poets and painters, novelists and playwrights could thank Vincent Rowland for a grub-stake while they worked on things they felt were precious! How much the sympathy orchestra owed to his large-handed generosity! What a powerful voice he was in all movements for civic progress! True, there were whispered tales of his prodigality with his women friends. I could not condemn him for that. I put him down as a dirty old gentleman and let it go at that.

"But what was this I was overhearing? It was unmistakably the voice of Vincent Rowland. He and Lola had been to a night club together. Now he had brought her home. Neither Lola nor Rowland knew that I was in the house. They thought the occupants were asleep. They spoke of guards.

"I heard Vincent Rowland say to Lola that he felt she should not take such risks. And I heard Lola impatiently demand what on earth he expected her to do—not squeeze the last ounce of gold out of these suckers, when it was there for the asking? My hair was standing on end. All along I had thought of Lola Carewe as the head and front of all this offending. Now I was forced to believe the evidence of my own ears—that the brain of her plots lay under the white and innocent-looking old head of Mr. Vincent Rowland. He was the spider in the midst of the web. Rowland was the man behind Lola Carewe.

"I saw that Christine Quires understood perfectly. She, too, had heard. She motioned to me not to speak. We listened. What more we would have heard I do not know. But perhaps Chung appeared just then—that yellow man was always showing up when you least expected him—so perhaps it was Chung who told Lola that I was in the next room with Christine.

"Distinctly I heard Lola gasp. The next instant the door was flung open. There stood Lola and her aged companion. They were looking in at us with Bluebeard eyes. Christine began to cry. I asked what was the matter. They accused us of eavesdropping. I told them the truth. Then Lola's mother came and defended us. Lola calmed down. But I saw that gleam in Vincent Rowland's eyes. The Physician's Supervision Solid foods should be added to cereal and egg as soon as possible. Cereal and egg may be fed to the infant as early as the third month.

Cod liver oil should be given twice a day. Start with a teaspoonful and increase the amount to a teaspoonful and a half twice a day. Orange juice or tomato juice should be included in the daily diet and is best given in the morning.

To determine whether the child is making satisfactory progress, it should be weighed at regular intervals. Under-feeding is shown if the weight drops off and continues to fall. Over-feeding is a frequent cause of distress. Vomiting and repeated colicky attacks are signs of over-feeding.

Mothers reluctant to start weaning their babies should remember that weaning is a normal process that need cause no anxiety. Never delay weaning, because it is more difficult to accomplish as the child grows older. Proper weaning done gradually and under the supervision of a physician is nothing to be dreaded.

The Daily Horoscope
Monday, Oct. 3, 1932

Mingled good and bad planetary influences are discerned for today, according to Astrology. It is a specially good day for salesmen and those interested in activities calling for enterprise and pioneering.

Before noon, matters connected with real estate and property can be handled especially for the women. Good for farming, mining, building and contracting, making leases, dealing in public utilities and trading with older people. Activities of a secret nature will be aided.

Prominent people may be receptive to new undertakings. Interest in politics will be pronounced and intense and it is an auspicious time for those seeking office to present their ideas to the masses.

From another direction, adverse stellar influences point to losses, disappointments, and bereavements among friends. Scandal or quarrels with the opposite sex is shown by those who lack understanding.

The afternoon hours are not favorable for writings, communications, interviews, signing contracts or making short journeys, if the stars are rightly read.

Persons whose birth date it is should witness much success beginning 1933 and during the most of 1934. The first three weeks of this month should also be auspicious for those born on this day and every day in the Libra sign. It is a good week to seek employment and ask favors if one's birthday falls on this date.

Children born on this day should depend upon their own efforts. They can easily gain the co-operation of their elders, although love affairs may bring them disappointment.

Lillian Whiting, (Author-Journalist) was born on this date, 1859. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday, include George Bancroft, 1800, famous American historian; Charles Camille Saint-Saens, 1835, French composer; Eleonora Duse, 1859 Italian actress.

SHOW SECRETARY

MACK PARRETT

The job of chief locator of concessions falls at the feet of Mack Parrett Jr., secretary of the Pumpkin Show. His job begins quite a while before Pumpkin Show week and continues until after the big event. He tells different concessions where they are to be placed during the big show and his job, though many have no idea of what he does, is one of the most important of the whole set-up.

LEAGUE FACES CRISIS TODAY

Tokyo Government To Ignore Findings of Lytton Commission, Report.

By International News Service.
Publication of the Lytton report, severely condemning Japan's military adventure in Manchuria, precipitated the most serious crisis in the 12-year history of the League of Nations today.
If the League accepts the Lytton commission findings, participated in by the United States, and attempts to act upon them, Japan in all probability will cancel her membership.
If the dominant European powers—Great Britain, France and Italy—attempt to shelve the report to prevent Japan from withdrawing they will meet bitter opposition from the smaller powers and the ensuing battle may do much to destroy the League's prestige.
The Tokyo government served notice today that it would ignore the major findings of the Lytton commission. China, on the other hand, will accept the report though disappointed with many of its conclusions.

Figures in Yale-Chicago Clash

One of the first big inter-sectional games of the 1932 football season will be the meeting of Yale and University of Chicago at New Haven Saturday. Mal Vin Sakin, Chicago's veteran halfback is in excellent shape and should be an outstanding figure in the clash. He is noted as an open field runner.

SEE LESS CANNED FOOD FOR RELIEF

Marked Decline in Canned Food For Purposes Due To Lack of Surplus.

Ohio's relief agencies will not have as large supplies of canned goods to distribute to the unemployed this winter as was the case last year, asserts Miss Minnie Price, state home demonstration leader for the agricultural extension service at the Ohio State University.
Last year, she points out, central canning kitchens were established to take care of truck loads of surplus products on the farm. This year the surplus is not available and products to be canned can be obtained only in smaller quantities.
Relief agencies in several urban centers are canning fruits and vegetables for use of social agencies doing relief work. In most cases this canning is being done in small community groups in various sections of the city. The plan is so arranged that each section does the canning for its own local groups.
To meet the increasing demands of home canners for reliable information on canning, a series of meetings have been held by specialists and extension workers in Stark, Huron, Ashland, Franklin, Miami, Licking, Lorain, Preble and Shelby counties. A part of each meeting is devoted to discussing the latest information about canning and in answering such questions as: What causes corn to spoil? Why are corn, beans, and peas kept? Can they be canned satisfactorily? Etc.

ASKS $10,000 FOR DINNER

COVINGTON, Ky. — Charged with spoiling his dinner, the Union Light, Heat and Power company here has been sued for $10,000 by C. B. Tootenbier. An agent turned off the gas while the dinner was being prepared and did not turn it on again for three hours, the plaintiff charged in his petition.

Lard cans, barrels, wash tubs, and other sorts of receptacles make good winter storage containers for vegetables. Lard cans are especially fine for the storage of root crops. All but about a half inch of the tops should be cut from the roots which are packed in cans and then stored in a cool, moist place or buried in the garden.

According to R. C. Atkinson of the Ohio Institute, county governments in Ohio quite often can make substantial savings by consolidating the auditor's and treasurer's offices, the recorder's office with either the auditor or clerk of courts and the transfer of the coroner's duties to the prosecuting attorney.

M. MADER QUALIFIES FOR GOLFING FINALS

Mack Mader, 1929 golf champion of Pickaway Country club, qualified for this year's finals Sunday when he eliminated Tom O. Gilliland in a semi-final match 5 to 3 and 3 to 0.

Mader scored 83 on the 18 holes, going out in 42 and in in 41. Gilliland had 46 on the first round but came back with a 41 to count 87 for the 18.

Mader will meet the winner of the Charles T. Gilmore-John D. Bragg semi-final match.

Gilmore was prepared to play Sunday but his opponent was out of town. It is possible they will play next Sunday with the championship 36-hole match to come on the following Sunday.

SPARTANS 7; CARDINALS 7

Great Football Teams Play To Tie With Thrills Seen During Four Periods.

In one of the greatest exhibitions of defensive football ever seen in Ohio the Portsmouth Spartans were held to a 7-7 tie by Jack Chevigny's Chicago Cardinals on Sunday. The Spartans scored in the second period and the Cards in the third.

Portsmouth outgained and outplayed the Chicago team but when yards meant something one of the Chicago players bobbed up at the right place at the right time. Greatest for the Chicago team were Ed Gordon, giant Illinois tackle, Creighton, Arkansas end, and Tim Moynihan, erstwhile Notre Dame alumnus and center. One of these three was in every play, defensively. The Cardinals' best offensive threat was Lillard, colored triple threat star who gained his experience at Oregon University.

This athlete, built beautifully but just a bit too mouthy for the Portsmouth district fans did all the punting for his team, all the passing and carried the ball a greater part of the time. He and Father Lumpkin, Georgia Tech star with the Portsmouth team, almost came to blows after Lillard had pushed Fresno, Portsmouth halfback out of bounds. After another mixup Lillard was removed from the game but returned in the second half.

Barred from Grid by Marriage

Believing that a good husband cannot be a good football player, Coach Hanley of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., has barred Kenneth Meenan, varsity fullback, from participation in the game this season. Meenan brought his wife to plead with the coach, but the mentor remained adamant. So Kenneth will have to devote all his talents to being a good hubby. Mrs. Meenan, the former Jean Rogers, is shown above. The photo of Kenneth was made during a recent workout on the grid.

Portsmouth's touchdown came on a series of pass plays in the second session with Cavosie going over for the goal. Clark dropped the extra point. Chicago's score came on a blocked kick back of goaline. Lumpkin covered the blocked kick but Tim Moynihan stole it from him giving Chicago a touchdown instead of a safety. Lillard dropped the extra point booting the ball clear into the bleachers.

Portsmouth had another good chance to score when Edding covered Moore's fumble of a punt but Lillard bobbed up to intercept a pass to end that threat.

Other scores were Green Bay Packers 13, New York Giants 0; Brooklyn Dodgers 14, Boston 0; Chicago Bears 0, Stapleton 0.

FORD IS LEADING

Since June when volume deliveries of the new Ford V-8 cars began, Ford has led all competitors by a wide margin in sales of passenger cars, commercial vehicles and trucks, according to official figures reported today by D. A. Yates of the Reliable Motors Co., the local Ford Dealer.

Ford took the lead in national motor car sales in June, increased his lead in July, as production of the new Ford V-8 cars maintained the lead throughout August according to reports for that month already received from 34 states, Mr. Yates declared. In addition to this, the latest reports also reveal that Ford led in sales in the largest cities during the first ten days of September.

In June, the first month when volume deliveries of the new Ford cars were available, Ford's share of the total passenger car sales in the United States reached 35.9 per cent, as compared to 24.9 per cent for its nearest competitor. Ford commercial cars were 50.5 per cent of all such vehicles sold, as compared to 37.6 per cent for its nearest competitor, while Ford trucks represented 35.7 per cent of all truck sales, as compared to 27.6 per cent for its nearest competitor.

MISSIONARIES TO SPEAK

BOSTON—Fifty Americans serving in twelve foreign lands with timely messages from overseas will speak at the 123rd annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions at Montclair, N. J., October 15 to 20, the headquarters announced.

Democrats as well as Republicans will be interested in the issues of the Campaign. Come and get an earful at Open House at one thirty, Tuesday afternoon tomorrow.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

WESTERVILLE, Tiger opponent here Friday, has six let-backs including a Schick and a Short. Did someone say the Red and Black players were going to do some blocking practice this week and they're going to get some new plays, too.

Evidently Gaines Hill has a friend working on the Lancaster Eagle. The latter says in his account of the St. Mary game here: "It was a sad day for Circleville. G. Hill, giant halfback, reputed to have played last season with the Chillicothe Eagles, a professional eleven, was manhandled most humbly by the little scrappers from Lancaster who showed no respect for size or experience."

He goes on to say the Hill brothers, including Kenny—someone owes someone else an apology—finished the game with one slightly fractured nose, several missing teeth and sundry bumps and dents among their souvenirs. We'll admit the nose part, Mr. Mattox, for that's what Kenny Hill got, but its up to you to prove the teeth part. Anyway Circleville was not penalized for shugging as your Mr. Sheridan was once and could have been 20 times — and another thing if that is the kind of football your team puts out we care for no more of it.

Circleville and Lancaster high schools have played three years and no one has been forced to use his fists during a tackle to make it more impressive, but it remains for your outfit to pull the dirt. Circleville played St. Mary's in basketball until charging and blocking fouls were so numerous even a referee could not keep up with them and it appears that football is going to be the same way—So Long, Mr. Mattox.

Howard White put his foot against a pigskin Saturday afternoon at Buckeye stadium to send the ball into the ozone for 79 yards, the best kick seen on Ohio field for a long while. He was the center of attraction for the Buckeye team and although he fumbled a couple of times he was always a threat. Once Ted Rosequist, big Cleveland tackle, smacked Howard after he was out-of-bounds, hurting the local athlete. Ohio State lost 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. A large crowd from here saw the game which ended 34-7 for Ohio State.

BENTON, DAY HIT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 3.—The little world's series will be resumed here tomorrow with the Newark club, International league titlist, and the Minneapolis team, champion of the American association, deadlocked at two games each.

The easterners evened the series count yesterday by banging out a 5 to 2 triumph over the home team. Johnny Owen, Newark third sacker, opened the pyrotechnics in the second inning with a home run. The next man up, Jack Saltzgaver, duplicated the circuit smash and the game was on wheels for the Internationals.

Rube Benton, who started hearing for the Millers, was troubled by his recent shoulder injury and Pea Ridge Day relieved him. The Newark homers sent Day scurrying to the showers to be replaced by Elam Van Gilder who hurled for the balance of the contest. Freman pitched throughout the fracas for the Newark club.

CLERIC TOURS ON 91

DENVER—Traveling in a nine year old automobile accompanied by his dog, Spot, the Rev. W. M. Partridge, a Massachusetts clergyman, arrived here recently. Father Partridge said he left New York City with less than $1. and arrived in Denver with the same amount.

Yanks Not Good But Cubs Putrid

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—It's all over now, this most preposterous of world's series, with the New York Yankees winning yesterday in four straight games to establish one of many records, but proving very little except that of two hugely unsatisfactory ball clubs, the Chicago Cubs were much the worse. They started out to win yesterday's game with four runs in the first inning and finished behind a 13 to 6 performance that shamed baseball's prestige and left the stands convulsed. Yes, it's all over but its memory will linger on to furnish many a coarse, low jest in the years to come.

DESERVED JOLLIES

As a lampoon, it had no equal. As an exhibition of baseball, it emphasized daffiness and featured the grotesque, serving no purpose except to indicate that Puchinello missed his vocation and Ziegfeld died too soon. Had he lived, he'd have had 1932 world series in the follies.

There never was anything quite its equal before. Baseball hopes never to see its like again. Pitching wasn't worth the change out of a nickel. Infielders kicked the ball around in a random, offhand way and threw it blithely where they would. We've sailed in a tolerant, patronizing way upon cricket for years, yet here was a series between the best clubs in baseball, in which everybody got on, everybody hit, everybody ran, everybody scored; in brief, the sort of nightmare a man has in which he dreams of suspenders but not enough pants.

I am no statistician, this being one of my ill-bred boasts, and many years ago, after they had the bank examiners hurriedly in, they discovered that I was no bookkeeper, either. So the following merely represents a rough trial-balance on the records that resulted from the general orgy:

Twelve straight victories for the Yankees over the Pirates in 1927, the Cardinals in 1929 and the Cubs in 1932; eleven home runs, all told, tying a seven-game record in a four-game effort; fifty six runs by both clubs in four days; eighty two hits in the same time; nineteen runs in yesterday's game; the equalling of an old record with the thirteen runs scored by the Yankees; their new record of thirty six runs in one series.

MIDGET TEAR GAS GUN WORN IN COAT SLEEVE

CHICAGO.—A new type tear gas gun small enough to fit inside a coat sleeve has been invented by Elmer Carlstrom, a retired policeman. The gun, despite its size, is supposedly powerful enough to rout a whole gang of bandits.

The device clamps to the wrist like a wristwatch. A fine wire leads from the trigger to a ring on the middle finger. A lifting of the arm and a flick of the finger are sufficient to discharge the gas. The pistol was designed especially for protection of bank and money messengers.

M. MADER QUALIFIES FOR GOLFING FINALS

Mack Mader, 1929 golf champion of Pickaway Country club, qualified for this year's finals Sunday when he eliminated Tom O. Gilliland in a semi-final match 5 up and 3 to go.

Mader scored 83 on the 18 holes, going out in 42 and in 41. Gilliland had 46 on the first round but came back with a 41 to count 87 for the 18.

Mader will meet the winner of the Charles T. Gilmore-John D. Bragg semi-final match.

Gillmore was prepared to play Sunday but his opponent was out of town. It is possible they will play next Sunday with the championship 36-hole match to come on the following Sunday.

SPARTANS 7; CARDINALS 7

Great Football Teams Play To Tie With Thrills Seen During Four Periods.

In one of the greatest exhibitions of defensive football ever seen in Ohio the Portsmouth Spartans were held to a 7-7 tie by Jack Chevigny's Chicago Cardinals outfit Sunday. The Spartans scored in the second period and the Cards in the third.

Portsmouth outgained and outplayed the Chicago team but when yards meant something one of the Chicago players bobbed up at the right place at the right time. Greatest for the Chicago team were Ed Gordon, giant Illinois tackle, Creighton, Arkansas end, and Tim Moynihan, erstwhile Notre Dame alumnus and center. One of these three was in every play, defensively. The Cardinals' best offensive threat was Lillard, colored triple threat star who gained his experience at Oregon university.

This athlete, built beautifully but just a bit too mouthy for the Portsmouth district fans did all the punting for his team, all the passing and carried the ball a greater part of the time. He and Father Lumpkin, Georgia Tech star with the Portsmouth team, almost came to blows after Lillard had pushed Presnell, Portsmouth halfback out of bounds. After another mixup Lillard was removed from the game but returned in the second half.

Barred from Grid by Marriage

Believing that a good husband cannot be a good football player, Coach Hanley of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., has barred Kenneth Meenan, varsity fullback, from participation in the game this season. Meenan brought his wife to plead with the coach, but the mentor remained adamant. So Kenneth will have to devote all his talents to being a good hubby. Mrs. Meenan, the former Jean Rogers, is shown above. The photo of Kenneth was made during a recent workout on the grid.

Portsmouth's touchdown came on a series of pass plays in the second session with Cavosie going over for the goal. Clark dropkicked the extra point. Chicago's score came on a blocked kick back of goalline. Lumpkin covered the blocked kick but Tim Moynihan stole it from him giving Chicago a touchdown instead of a safety. Lillard dropkicked the extra point booting the ball clear into the bleachers.

Portsmouth had another good chance to score when Ebbing covered Moore's fumble of a punt but Lillard bobbed up to intercept a pass to end that threat.

Other scores were Green Bay Packers 13, New York Giants 0; Brooklyn Dodgers 14, Boston 0; Chicago Bears 0, Stapleton, 0.

FORD IS LEADING

Since June when volume deliveries of the new Ford V-8 cars began, Ford has led all competitors by a wide margin in sales of passenger cars, commercial vehicles and trucks, according to official figures reported today by D. A. Yates of the Reliable Motors Co., the local Ford Dealer.

Ford took the lead in national motor car sales in June, increased his lead in July, as production of the new Ford mounted, and maintained the lead throughout August, according to reports for that month already received from 34 states, Mr. Yates declared. In addition to this, the latest reports also reveal that Ford led in sales in the largest cities during the first ten days of September.

In June, the first month when volume deliveries of the new Ford cars were available, Ford's share of the total passenger car sales in the United States reached 35.9 per cent, as compared to 24.9 per cent for its nearest competitor. Ford commercial cars were 50.5 per cent of all such vehicles sold, as compared to 37.6 per cent for its nearest competitor, while Ford trucks represented 35.7 per cent of all truck sales, as compared to 27.6 per cent for its nearest competitor.

MISSIONARIES TO SPEAK

BOSTON—Fifty Americans serving in twelve foreign lands with timely messages from overseas will speak at the 123rd annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions at Montclair, N. J., October 18 to 20, the headquarters announced.

Democrats as well as Republicans will be interested in the issues of the Campaign, Come and get an earful at Opera House at one thirty, Tuesday afternoon tomorrow.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

WESTERVILLE, Tiger opponent here Friday, has six let-back including a Schick and a Short. Did someone say the Red and Black players were going to do some blocking practice this week and they're going to get some new plays, too.

Evidently Gaines Hill has a friend working on the Lancaster Eagle. The latter says in his account of the St. Mary game here: "It was a sad day for Circumference Town. The latter's mainstay, G. Hill, giant halfback, reputed to have played last season with the Chillicothe Eagles, a professional eleven, was manhandled most humbly by the little scrappers from Lancaster who showed no respect for size or experience."

He goes on to say the Hill brothers, including Kenny—someone owes someone else an apology—finished the game with one slightly fractured nose, several missing teeth and sundry bumps and dents among their souvenirs. We'll admit the nose part, Mr. Mattox for that's what Kenny Hill got, but its up to you to prove the teeth part. Anyway Circleville was not penalized for slugging as your Mr. Sheridan was once and could have been 20 times — and another thing if that is the kind of football your team puts out we care for no more of it.

Circleville and Lancaster high schools have played three years and no one has been forced to use his fists during a tackle to make it more impressive, but it remains for your outfit to pull the dirt. Circleville played St. Mary's in basketball until charging and blocking fouls were so numerous even a referee could not keep up with them and it appears that football is going to be the same way—So Long, Mr. Mattox.

Howard White put his foot against a pigskin Saturday afternoon at Buckeye stadium to send the ball into the ozone for 79 yards, the best kick seen on Ohio field for a long while. He was the center of attraction for the Buckeye team and although he fumbled a couple of times he was always a threat. Once Ted Rosequist, big Cleveland tackle, smacked Howard after he was out-of-bounds, hurting the local athlete. Ohio State lost 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. A large crowd from here saw the game which ended 34-7 for Ohio State.

BENTON, DAY HIT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 3.—The little world's series will be resumed here tomorrow with the Newark club, International league titlist, and the Minneapolis team, champion of the American association, deadlocked at two games each.

The easterners evened the series count yesterday by banging out a 5 to 2 triumph over the home team. Johnny Owen, Newark third sacker, opened the pyrotechnics in the second inning with a home run. The next man up, Jack Saltz-gaver, dupliated the circuit smash and the game was on wheels for the Internationals.

Rube Benton, who started heaving for the Millers, was troubled by his recent shoulder injury and Pea Ridge Day relieved him. The Newark homers sent Day scurrying to the showers to be replaced by Elam Van Gilder who hurled for the balance of the contest.

Frennan pitched throughout the fracas for the Newark club.

Yanks Not Good But Cubs Putrid

CHICAGO, Oct. 3—It's all over now, this most preposterous of world's series, with the New York Yankees winning yesterday in four straight games to establish one of many records, but proving very little except that, of two hugely unsatisfactory ball clubs, the Chicago Cubs were much the worse. They started out to win yesterday's game with four runs in the first inning and finished behind a 13 to 6 performance that shamed baseball's prestige and left the stands convulsed. Yes, it's all over but its memory will linger on to furnish many a coarse, low jest in the years to come.

DESERVED JOLLIES

As a lampoon, it had no equal. As an exhibition of baseball, it emphasized daffiness and featured the grotesque, serving no purpose except to indicate that Puchinello missed his vocation and Ziegfeld died too soon. Had he lived, he'd have had 1932 world series in the follies.

There never was anything quite its equal before. Baseball knows never to see its like again. Pitching wasn't worth the change out of a nickel. Infielders kicked the ball around in a random, offhand way and threw it blithely where they would. We've smiled in a tolerant, patronizing way upon cricket for years, yet here was a series between the best clubs in baseball, in which everybody got on, everybody hit, everybody ran, everybody scored; in brief, the sort of nightmare a man has in which he dreams of suspenders but not enough pants.

I am no statistician, this being one of my ill-bred boasts, and many years ago, after they had the bank examiners hurriedly in, they discovered that I was no book-keeper, either. So the following merely represents a rough trial-balance on the records that resulted from the general orgy:

LOGAN ELM

phy of James E. Campbell.

Mr. Carlisle, in bringing the meeting to a close, thanked the trustees of the association for making the meeting a success. Present were Mrs. A. G. Schoedinger, C. E. Galbreath, Harry Stevenson, Gen. Florence, Dr. Jones, John Wilson, C. S. Chappellear, and J. W. Johnson. The band played to end the meeting.

A new shelter house has been erected over the pump and the park provides a fine place for picnics and gatherings. Many persons took advantage of this fact and enjoyed practically the entire day there.

350 AT RECEPION

After the meeting at the Elm. Dr. and Mrs. Jones were hosts at a reception for Mr. Sater at their home in Park-pl. More than 150 persons enjoyed the splendid hospitality dispensed there. Included among the guests were Prof. and Mrs. D. E. Clark of Kenton. Mr. Clark is former high school principal here who is taking a new position at Van Wert. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hosterman and a party of friends from Springfield were at the reception. Mr. Hosterman is chairman of the Ohio Revolutionary Memorial commission. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Allen of Cedarville, former residents, were here besides numerous others.

GAS RATES

They said they will immediately appeal to the state supreme court for a reversal.

In defense of the decision, Chairman Hopple issued a statement pointing out that the new Columbus rate is lower than that of many other leading Ohio cities. He said the rates of other cities are: Akron 58¢, Canton 59¢, Cincinnati 73.3¢, Cleveland 58.4¢, Dayton 70¢, Hamilton 75¢, Toledo 55.3¢, Youngstown 60¢.

"A 48-cent rate would be satisfactory and anything less than 53 would not be compensatory," he said.

TRIED TO RESIGN

The controversy over the Columbus gas rate has been marked by many side issues. Bricker recently tried to resign from the commission, only to have his resignation refused by Governor George White pending settlement of the Columbus case.

The Columbus gas case has held up decisions in many other important cases, and the commission has repeatedly been accused of unnecessary delay. The Columbus case was formally presented to the commission on Dec. 31, 1929.

REFORMATORY

Officials, that he was the "ringleader" of the escape plot.

Two other prisoners also were captured before they were able to make their way to freedom outside the prison walls.

During the search through the reformatory for the men at large, O. F. Garver, assistant superintendent of the institution, accidentally shot himself in the right leg. His revolver discharged as he was trying to force open a door which had stuck.

Hager's condition, physicians reported, was extremely critical. Little hope was held for his recovery.

Because of the confusion and the arrangement of the cells in the "correction block" officials were hampered in making an immediate check of the prisoners. It was not definitely determined at first whether any of the men at large had gotten beyond the prison walls.

While a close guard was held outside the prison, search was concentrated inside the reformatory.

The jailbreak followed the detection last Saturday of Mrs. Ely, Florence Thompson, 39-year-old former Cleveland beauty parlor operator, while she was allegedly attempting to aid her son, escape from the institution. She was apprehended, according to reformatory officials, trying to smuggle a saw to Charles William, 20, a son by a former marriage.

FACES COURT

Mrs. Thompson was scheduled to be arraigned before municipal Judge R. E. Hutchinson today on a charge of "conveying articles into a state institution" to assist in the escape of an inmate.

Williams was reported to have been one of those who participated in the break today.

Chandler, charged by reformatory officials as the instigator of the escape plot, was expected to be placed in solitary confinement. Authorities said the prisoner had made a signed confession.

Chandler broke out of his cell by ripping loose a plank. Officials said, "Prisoners are not to be taken into the streets with their hands cuffed. They are weighed at least 200 pounds." Officials reported.

Records at the reformatory that Chandler, a negro, is 35 old. He is from Urbancress, under sentence of one to 20 years in the reformatory for opening an automobile without the owner's consent. He was "sent up" in April, 1930.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INFORMATION

All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Circleville Herald style and type. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertisement copy.

Advertising orders for irregular insertions take the one-time rate. If taken for less than a full week, the rate is increased to make up for the loss of the regular rate. Count five average words to the line on paid advertisements.

Charged ads will be received by telephone, and if paid at Circleville Herald office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rates will be allowed.

Ads ordered for three or seven times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned. All ads ordered seven times will be published in the Union-Herald (Weekly) and will be counted as one insertion, as will three-times insertion printed in Tuesday's or Wednesday's issues of the Daily.

Ads received up to 11 A. M. will be inserted the same day. A charge of 50 cents is made for publishing cards of thanks. Special rates for yearly advertising upon request.

Careful attention given to mail orders. Rates per line for consecutive insertions: One time 10c per line Three times for the price of two. Seven times for the price of three. Prices on display classified furnished on request.

The publishers will be responsible only for incorrect insertion of any advertisement.

phy of James E. Campbell.

Mr. Carlisle, in bringing the meeting to a close, thanked the trustees of the association for making the meeting a success. Present were Mrs. A. G. Schoedinger, C. B. Galbreath, Harry Stevenson, Gen. Florence, Dr. Jones, John Wilson, C. C. Chappellear, and J. W. Johnson. The band played to end the meeting.

A new shelter house has been erected over the pump and the park provides a fine place for picnics and gatherings. Many persons took advantage of this fact and enjoyed practically the entire day there.

150 AT RECEPTION After the meeting at the Elm, Dr. and Mrs. Jones were hosts at a reception for Mr. Sater at their home in Park-pl. More than 150 persons enjoyed the splendid hospitality dispensed there. Included among the guests were Prof. and Mrs. D. B. Clark of Kenton, Mr. Clark is former high school principal here who is taking a new position at Van Wert. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hosterman and a party of friends from Springfield were at the reception. Mr. Hosterman is chairman of the Ohio Revolutionary Memorial commission. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Allen of Cedarville, former residents, were here besides numerous others.

They said they will immediately appeal to the state supreme court for a reversal.

In defense of the decision, Chairman Hoppie issued a statement pointing out that the new Columbus rate is lower than that of many other leading Ohio cities. He said the rates of other cities are Akron 55, Canton 58, Cincinnati 73.3, Cleveland 58.4, Dayton 70, Hamilton 75, Toledo 55.3, Youngstown 60.

"A 48-cent rate would be satisfactory and anything less than 55 would not be compensatory," he said.

TRIED TO RESIGN

The controversy over the Columbus gas rate has been marked by many side issues. Bricker re-

The Columbus gas case has held up decisions in many other important cases, and the commission has repeatedly been accused of unnecessary delay. The Columbus case was formally presented to the commission on Dec. 31, 1929.

ficials, that he was the 'ringleader' of the escape plot.

Two other prisoners also were captured before they were able to make their way to freedom outside the prison walls.

During the search through the reformatory for the men at large, O. F. Garver, assistant superintendent of the institution, accidentally shot himself in the right leg. His revolver discharged as he was trying to force open a door which had stuck.

Hager's condition, physicians reported, was extremely critical. Little hope was held for his recovery.

Because of the confusion and the arrangement of the cells in the "correction block" officials were hampered in making an immediate check of the prisoners. It was not definitely determined at first whether any of the men at large had gotten beyond the prison walls. While a close guard was held outside the prison, search was concentrated inside the reformatory.

The jailbreak followed the detection last Saturday of Mrs. Ellis Florenz Thompson, 39-year-old former Cleveland beauty parlor operator, while she was allegedly attempting to aid her son, escape from the institution. She was apprehended, according to reformatory officials, trying to smuggle a saw to Charles William, 20, a son by a former marriage.

FACES COURT Mrs. Thompson was scheduled to be arraigned before municipal Judge R. E. Hutchinson today on a charge of "conveying articles into a state institution" to assist in the escape of an inmate.

Williams was reported to have been one of those who participated in the break today.

Chandler, charged by reformatory officials as the instigator of the escape plot, was expected to be placed in solitary confinement. Authorities said the prisoner had made a signed confession.

Chandler broke out of his cell by ripping loose a peg on the door, officials said. Free from the cell, he lay in wait for Hager. The bar with which Hager was felled weighed at least 10 pounds, officials reported.

Records at the reformatory show that Chandler, a negro, is 22 years old. He is from Urbancrest and is under sentence of one to 20 years in the reformatory for operating an automobile without the owner's consent. He was "sent up" in April, 1930.

A city will be only as great as its citizens make it.

Judging from the super-heated, roller-bearing remarks being made by our prize politicians, business is picking up in the political world.

The present economic condition is not all caused by suspicions and fears. Machinery and the speeding up of production, unaccompanied by a proportionate distribution of buying power to consume it, all city never accomplishes anything.

are instances of economic snags that must be overcome.

If you wish to sell anything, advertise in newspapers. They are a part of the daily life of the people.

The danger in American politics is that polite fictions are apt to develop into well established facts. Half truths go unrebuked. Perhaps because there are more bloating about than there is time to deal with and they are likely to become the basis of splendid structures whose inherent unsoundness of foundation are easily overlooked.

Every community has its builders. They also have the fellows who lay down on the job and those who always ball things up. Then again they have a few who will try to hog everything in sight, and if they can't do it they won't play.

LONGMONT, Colo.—Twins recently born to Mrs. Victor B. Allen of Niwot, Colo., will celebrate different birthdays. One was born shortly before midnight. The other arrived five minutes after midnight.

From Films to "Fourth Estate"

Cigar in mouth and a look of painful concentration on his visage, "Pete" the canine comedian of the movies is shown as he gave a perfect impersonation of a gentleman of the press knocking out his copy. Photo was made on the occasion of "Pete's" visit to a Boston newspaper office. But there are not many typewriter pounders that draw "Pete's" salary. He has earned $24,000 a year for the past three years for his master, Harry Lucenay.

BODIES SOUGHT

BAKER'S FIELD, Cal., Oct. 3.—With twelve persons known dead, hundreds of men were at work today seeking the bodies of at least twenty other persons including two pretty young girls feared drowned in a cloud burst which flooded Tehachapi gorge south of here Friday night.

Eight bodies were recovered from the mud and debris of Tehachapi creek. Four persons still were missing and known to be dead.

LIMA CORPS WINS

TROY, Oct. 3.—First prize of $150 had been won today by the Lima American Legion drum corps in a contest held by the Troy post of the American Legion at the Miami county fairgrounds here.

Bellefontain, with second place won $100; Norwood, with third, received $50, and Piqua and Newport, Ky., fourth and fifth, each received $25.

Fall Chapeau

No matter how well dressed millady may be from the neck down, the effect is ruined if the hat is not in keeping with the rest of her costume. Here is a charming hat, designed to go with the new Fall styles. It has a stitched crown and brim, accentuating the backward movement and held on the side with a marcesite ornament.

Did you ever stop to think

A city will be only as great as its citizens make it.

Judging from the super-heated, roller-bearing remarks being made by our prize politicians, business is picking up in the political world.

The present economic condition is not all caused by suspicions and fears. Machinery and the speeding up of production, unaccompanied by a proportionate distribution of buying power to consume it, all city never accomplishes anything.

are instances of economic snags that must be overcome.

If you wish to sell anything, advertise in newspapers. They are a part of the daily life of the people.

The danger in American politics is that polite fictions are apt to develop into well established facts. Half truths go unrebuked. Perhaps because there are more bloating about than there is time to deal with and they are likely to become the basis of splendid structures whose inherent unsoundness of foundation are easily overlooked.

Every community has its builders. They also have the fellows who lay down on the job and those who always bull things up. Then again they have a few who will try to hog everything in sight, and if they can't do it they won't play.

Plans Complete For Club Work

The 4-H Pig and Calf club exhibit will be located on Western-ave just east of the N & W railroad and north of Main-st.

The Corn club exhibit will be held at the regular Corn Exhibit in front of the Circleville Produce Co. on W. Main-st. The 4-H Clothing and Food exhibit will be located in the Anderson Monument room on E. Main-st. The Pig and Calf club members will bring their exhibits to the Pumpkin Show on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 5th. Corn club members will bring their exhibit in either Wednesday evening or Thursday morning. Clothing club members will bring their exhibits to the Anderson Monument room, Tuesday afternoon and evening, Oct. 4th. Food club members will prepare their exhibits and bring them into the Anderson Monument Room on Wednesday, Oct. 5th.

The following judges have been obtained to score and place the 4-H club exhibits: Mrs. C.L. Blackman, of Columbus, for Food and Clothing. J. W. Wuchet, animal husbandry department, Ohio State University will judge the 4-H Pig club. Ivan McKellip, Dairy Specialist of the Ohio State University will judge the 4-H Guernsey heifers. Dr. H. L. Borst, will judge the 4-H Corn club with the Corn show. The Pig and Calf club judging and scoring afford a show which is open to the general public.

All Pumpkin Show visitors are invited to attend this Show and study the types of pigs and calves which are most popular and economic.

The Dairy Heifers will be judged and shown Wednesday afternoon, October 5th. The Pig club show and judging will be held on Thursday, Oct. 6th.

BRIGGS HOPES FOR BIG SWINE DISPLAY

All Stock To Be Protected;
Numerous Exhibits Are Expected By Chairman.

Harry J. Briggs, chairman of the swine display, under L. T. Shaner, director, reports that his offering to the Pumpkin Show will be one of the best in years.

A large tent has been provided for this department and the best protection possible will be afforded entries in the displays. Swine entered in boys and girls club work will not be eligible for entry in this particular department.

Entries close at 9 a. m. Thursday, Oct. 6.

Top awards in this department are $5 each for the Grand champion sow and Grand Champion Boar with other money prizes and ribbons to be awarded.

J. SWEARINGEN IN CHARGE OF FRUITS

Many Awards To Be Made In Display; Guard Fruit Till
Saturday At 5.

James Swearingen of Jackson-twp. is one of the proudest display managers of the entire Pumpkin show and he certainly has a right to be because his display draws as much interest as any in the big event.

Fruit, fruit and more fruit is the exhibit of Mr. Swearingen, who begins preparing for his display for the next year as soon as one year's pumpkin show is ended.

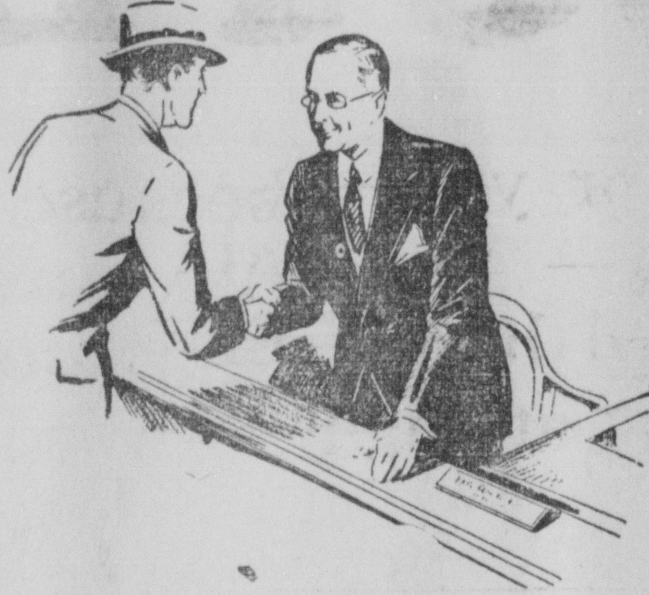

All displays in this department will be cared for until 5 p. m. on Saturday of the show at which time it will be up to the exhibitor to retrieve his or her goods. All fruits must be grown by the exhibitor.

Prizes will be given for the five best Grimes Golden, Rome Beauty, Baldwin, Banana, Red Delicious, Yellow Delicious, Staymon Winesap, Northern Spy, Stark, Bell-flower, Hubbardson, Ben Davis, York, Imperial Rambo, Jonathan, Tulpehocking, White Pippin, Winesap, Wolf River and for the five best of any other variety other than mentioned above.

The five largest apples will receive a prize, besides peaches, pears, grapes, plums, and quinces.

Let it be said for the gangster that when at last he is caught no church needs to elect a new deacon.

Scouts Will Be On Duty During Pumpkin Show

All Boy Scouts in the county are asked to report on October 5 when they will be given instruction and will help in getting the Scout exhibits ready for the big Pumpkin Show.

All Troops are busy preparing exhibits on Scout work. These exhibits will include miniature signaling towers, miniature bird houses, bridges, knot boards and many other articles which the Boy Scouts have been making in connection with their test work. In addition to the services which the Scouts gave last year they will conduct an Information Headquarters for the entire Pumpkin Show. The Scout Headquarters will be located there and the Scouts will be assigned to duty from there.

ALL COOPERATING
R. L. Brehmer, District Chairman, is working with D. M. Reed, Field Director and K. A. Connelly, Educational Director of the Boy Scouts in organizing the Troop and Volunteer Leaders for the work.

Boy Scouts will be instructed to show every courtesy to visitors at the Pumpkin Show. Each boy has been asked to bring his first aid kit, if he has one, and a Patrol of Scouts will be in charge of the first aid tent where they will take care of any Pumpkin Show visitors needing attention.

Volunteer leaders will this year assist in directing the work of the Scouts. The troops which are expected to assist are as follows:

Troop 43, Williamsport, Ohio, Donald M. Smith, Scoutmaster.
Troop 84, Ashville, Ohio, E. W. Seeds, Scoutmaster.

Troop 146, Arch Post, American Legion, New Holland, Ohio, L. M. Tarbill, Scoutmaster.

Troop 107, Kiwanis Club, Circleville, Ohio, Ludwig Haecker, Scoutmaster.

Troop 158, Church of the Brethren, Circleville, Ohio, L. D. Young, Scoutmaster.

Troop 167, Calvary Evangelical Church, Circleville, Ohio, Manley Carothers, Scoutmaster.

Troop 168, Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, Circleville, Ohio, Herbert Hammel, Scoutmaster.

As schools will not be in session in Circleville all Scout members will be expected to be on duty at all times.

SELLS WOODEN EGGS
PORTLAND, Ore.—A Connecticut Yankee made the first wooden nutmegs, but it remained for an Oregonian to manufacture wooden nest eggs of red cedar and thereby acquire a prosperous business. The cedar nest eggs find approval in the sight of the hens because they warm more easily than glass or porcelain and their odor is distasteful to vermin, the producer claims.

Horse Show To Again Be Good

With the resumption last year of the horse show during the Pumpkin Show interest has sprung up anew and many more exhibitors than last year are contemplating entering this year's event.

Stanley Lewis is chairman of the horse division and reported today that all horses to be eligible for premiums are expected to appear in the parade.

J. A. Wallace is chairman of the saddle class and reports the following awards to be made: three gaited class-ladies, first prize, $5 and second prize, $2.50 with a ribbon for third and fourth prize; gents, $5 for first prize and $2.50 for second with ribbons for third and fourth. The same prizes prevail in the five gaited class the same prizes of $5, $2.50 and ribbons will be given for ladies, gents and the best pair.

SHEPHERD CLASS
Mr. Wallace is also in charge of the pony class. Prizes will be given this year in the best Shepherd class, the best pony 12 hands or over and boys and girls pony harness class.

L. E. Miller has charge of the light harness class of the show and offers the following prizes: best handles, mannered, gaited and equipped for each ladies and gents, $5, $2.50 and ribbons.

The Draft horse show is directed by Elmer Wolfe. Belgians, Percherons, pure bred or grade will be exhibited and judged Friday with entries closing Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Stallions, four years old and over; stallions, three years old; Stallions, two years old; stallions, one year old; stallions, colts; mares, four years old and over; mares, three years old; mares, two years old; mares, one year old; mare, colt; brood mare, with not less than two of her progeny, team draft horses, stallion, three or more of his get; champion stallion and champion mare, will all receive money prizes.

All horses will be in the parade opening the show on Wednesday evening.

SMALL GRAINS TO AGAIN BE SHOWN

H. Honore Morris is chairman of the display of small grain and forage seeds. All samples must have been raised by the exhibitor this year.

The seed value of the exhibits will be emphasized in judging with purity, relative freedom from disease and mixtures, probable viability of the seed, uniformity and truthness to type are the main factors to be considered. All exhibits must be correctly named as to variety.

Prizes of money will be given in the following varieties: Best peck rye, best peck barley, best peck soft red winter wheat, best peck white oats, best peck red oats, best peck clover seed, best peck timothy seed, and the best peck of soy beans.

STRIP COOP'S CAR
CHICAGO—Sergeant Edward Quinn of the Hyde Park police station reported late for work one night recently. The reason was that when he went to his garage to drive to the station he found his new car had been stripped of its accessories and rear wheels.

THE CORN DISPLAY
The corn display at the Pumpkin Show will be under the direction of C. M. Leist.

Last year there were a great number of entries and this year it is expected even more will have their products on display. All samples shown must have been grown in Pickaway-co in 1932. Each exhibit should be fully correctly named according to variety. Awards will be made on the basis of relative maturity, seed uniformity and adherence to variety, freedom from disease, styt of type standards.

Money prizes will be given with Yellow corn, white corn, colored or mixed corn, or pop corn included in the display.

All horses will be in the parade opening the show on Wednesday evening.

Pumpkins Again Leading Display

The leading display of the Pumpkin Show naturally comes from pumpkins themselves. In 1902 when the first show was held practically the only display in the show was that of Pumpkins.

R. L. Brehmer, in charge of this display for several years, is again on the job. Mr. Brehmer reports that the pumpkin crop this year is not so large as a year ago but that the number of entries will be just as strong and probably stronger.

C. M. LEIST AGAIN HAS CORN DISPLAY

The corn display at the Pumpkin Show will be under the direction of C. M. Leist.

Last year there were a great number of entries and this year it is expected even more will have their products on display.

All samples shown must have been grown in Pickaway-co in 1932. Each exhibit should be fully correctly named according to variety. Awards will be made on the basis of relative maturity, seed uniformity and adherence to variety, freedom from disease, etc. of type standards.

Money prizes will be given with Yellow corn, white corn, colored or mixed corn, or pop corn included in the display.

STRIP COP'S CAR

CHICAGO-Sgt. Edward Quinn of the Hyde Park police station reported late for work one night recently. The reason was that when he went to his garage to drive to the station he found his new car had been stripped of its accessories and rear wheels.

The Coon brothers, exhibitors in numerous shows, carried off first prize at the state fair and will again be entered.

The best prizes given the first year of the Pumpkin Show were in merchandise.

Pumpkin growers of the county have learned how to scientifically feed them so they grow to a very large size; several tap the vine of the pumpkin and feed it milk to make it grow.

The freak pumpkin display is again expected to be an interesting one.

A prize of $35 is offered for the best display of pumpkins, squashes and freaks with awards for the largest pumpkin, the largest squash and the most unusual pumpkin, squash or vegetable.

NICKERSON'S ASSISTANTS PLAN LARGE DISPLAYS THIS SEASON

Glenn I. Nickerson is in charge of Department No. 4 of the Pumpkins how succeeding C. K. Howard, who resigned before preparation for this year's show began.

One assistant of Mr. Nickerson's is Arthur W. Phillips in charge of the bread department. Prizes of money will be given for the best loaf of white bread, Graham bread, nut bread, best pan of white rolls, best pan of biscuits, best coffee cake, best pan of rusks and best ginger bread.

Another division under Mr. Nickerson is the cake class under the direction of Robert Maloney. Prizes in this class will include best chocolate layer cake, coconut layer cake, caramel iced layer cake, plain iced layer cake, yellow sponge cake, angel food cake, plain angel food cake, iced, best plain cake, Devil's food cake, fruit cake, best plate of plain cookies, best plate of nut cookies and best plate of crullers.

JOE LYNCH CHAIRMAN
Joseph Lynch has taken over the chairmanship of the butter display for the show. A number of premiums are found in this class including, best roll of butter, country made, quality to count; most appropriate design, best six cones of honey, best six jars of extracted honey, best dozen brown eggs and best dozen white eggs.

Jellies and canned fruit in Mr. Nickerson's department are under the eye of H. E. Colwell and will be shown at Barrere and Nickerson's.

JOSEPH HAS CANDY
Henry Joseph is chairman of the candy display. All candy exhibited is turned in to be distributed to the children of the county home. All candy must be home-made and manufacturers and dealers are barred.

The following kinds will be included in the display:
Best pound of plain fudge, best pound of nut fudge, best pound of taffy, best pound of cream candy and the best pound of divinity.

BETTER DISPLAY ROOM TO AID SHOW'S FANCY WORK EXHIBIT

As in previous years much of the interest of the women visitors of the Pumpkin Show will center in the fancy work department. The display this year promises to be a larger one and the competition will be high.

There is no limit to the amount of material to be entered. The large room on W. Main-st, formerly occupied by Friedman's store, has been secured for the exhibit this year and will be an ideal place, as there has never been adequate space for this display in the previous shows.

The young girls of the county are especially urged to enter their needle work in the show this year. Prizes are given for work done by girls between the ages of 12 and 18 and also under the age of 12.

All entries, if possible, are requested to be in by Wednesday evening so the committee will have ample time to prepare for a showing on Thursday. Articles entered in former shows are not eligible for prize competition. No new awards have been added.

Cooperation will be highly appreciated by the head of this department, Mrs. E. S. Stephens. Mrs. Stephens, who has been chairman of the fancy work for a number of years, is very competent and will be ably assisted by Mrs. Frank Palmer and Mrs. Robert Bates.

As is the custom, out of town persons will judge this display.

PRIZES PLANNED IN VEGETABLE EXHIBIT

Only one exhibit by the same party in any one class is one of the strongest rules laid down by the chairman, Fred B. Brunner, of the vegetable display.

Prizes of cash will be awarded in the following classes:
Russet Rural potatoes, Carman potatoes, Early Ohio potatoes, five largest of any variety, best display of potatoes, three largest yams, ten best turnips, ten best onions, three best radishes, three best carrots, two largest cucumbers, three largest heads of cabbage, four best stalks of celery, five largest beets, ten best peppers, green or red, best display of vegetables and six best tomatoes. Other prizes will be awarded dry beans, best quart; white marrowfat, lima, pole white kidney, white navy and bush lima.

Find the only 12 men in the court room who don't realize the witness is lying, and that's the jury.

The Circleville Athletic Club dance committee reports a popular orchestra booked for the four nights of the Pumpkin Show, Wednesday through Saturday.

Brook's Golden Band of fourteen pieces including two pianos will furnish the music for the park plan dances at the club gymnasium from 8:30 to 12:30. The band, from Ohio university at Athens, is newly organized, several of its members having formerly played with the Travelers' orchestra, which has been heard a number of times in this community and won the favor of the local people.

The Vocational Agricultural Department of the Walnut, Jackson and Pickaway Township schools which are under the supervision of F. T. Bowne and G. D. Bradley are preparing an exhibit to depict the activities of these Departments and this exhibit will be housed in the Anderson Monument room with the farm bureau exhibits.

The general public and visitors to the Pumpkin Show are extended a special invitation to visit this entire exhibit and study the messages which it will reflect.

POULTRY AND PETS TO BE PROTECTED

Cliff White and Harry Lane In Charge of Display On S. Court-St.

County Auditor Clifford White and Harry Lane are in charge of the poultry display under the direction of L. T. Shaner. This show will again be on S. Court-st opposite the courthouse. All the poultry and pets will be shown under a large tent so ample protection is assured.

Judging will be done by comparison and all birds, pets, etc., will be kept under cover, fed and cared for free of charge during the show. Money prizes will be awarded and it is expected this display will draw as much interest as in previous years with more entries expected than ever before.

Chicken, ducks, turkeys, pigeons, rabbits of all kinds will be included in the display with entries closing at noon Thursday.

FLOWER DISPLAY PREDICTED GOOD

Dr. Bales Says Season Not So Good But Hot Competition Expected.

The Flower Show, which is always one of the beauty displays of the Pumpkin show, will be held this year on W. Main-st between Fickard's Drug store and Scioto-st.

Although this year is not as good as last for flower growing, a good display is expected and much competition is promised according to reports from the department under the chairmanship of Dr. E. R. Bales.

Awards will be given to amateur flower growers only. Entries will be closed Thursday at 6 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded for dahlias, cosmos, marigold, zinnias, coxcomb, most artistic winter bouquet, and most artistic vase and basket of garden flowers.

George H. Fickard and Joseph Burns will assist Dr. Bales in this exhibit.
